

Finishing

THE PREMIER UK JOURNAL FOR SURFACE TECHNOLOGY

MEDIA DETAILS 2018

www.finishingmagazine.co.uk

Welcome to Finishing Magazine

Finishing magazine is a specialist bi-monthly for the UK's metal finishing community.

Since 1947 it has provided decision makers with technical papers, news, views and debate on all aspects of metal finishing and surface coating.

Finishing covers the issues for the whole market, not just a sub sector of it and is read by the whole buying chain from trade finishing houses to manufacturers of a wide variety of products from white goods to automotive. Each issue offers a varied mix of news, new products, legislation, industry opinions and special features. The editorial team prides itself on being active and involved in the market so it writes from within the industry rather than commenting from the outside.

As the longest established title for the sector, readers rely on Finishing to provide impartial and independent comment.

Finishing enjoys strong links with the industry's leading players, associations, regulators and trade bodies.

Circulation Profile

Finishing magazine is circulated to members of the Surface Engineering Association plus professionals responsible for company management, finishing and production in small to multi-national companies.

Covering the trade finishing and manufacturing industries, Finishing is read by the whole buying chain.

These readers are responsible for buying equipment, consumables and services relating to metal finishing.

All advertisements should be supplied as digital files, which can be submitted either via online file transfer or by e-mail.

Various software packages are acceptable (QuarkXPress, Adobe InDesign, Adobe Illustrator or Adobe Photoshop); however, while we do not exclude PC files like Word, Publisher etc, material generated from these programs is not generally suitable and conversion from RGB to CMYK can produce unexpected results. We therefore expect files to have been created in a recognised programme specifically for graphics.

Please contact the production department for full mechanical data.
